Fondazione Willy Brandt

REGIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL CENTER

FWB–REC agreement

The Fondazione Willy Brandt is an Italian institution which operates in partnership with universities and other public/private authorities in order to carry out different programs in the field of environment.

These goals are entirely in harmony with the mission of the REC — Regional Environmental Center

The REC as an international organization provides technical assistance and promotes training activities, as well as education and capacity building, addressed to governments, non-governmental associations and public companies in the countries covered by the activities.

The REC aims to be a strong international organization facilitating solving environmental challenges and promoting sustainable development in beneficiary areas and beyond.

REC Offices in the region: Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, FYR Macedonia, Montenegro, Romania, Serbia Slovenia, Turkey and Kosovo (as defined by UNSCR 1244)

Fondazione Willy Brandt

REGIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL CENTER

FWB-REC agreement

FWB-REC's agreement provides a platform for the achievement of common goals in the Balkan Region, with possibility of extension to other countries through development of the following activities:

- Training for graduates and undergraduates in environmental issues with the technical support of several Italian and local universities
- Divulcation and dissemination in primary and secondary schools of the related courses
- Training of the local public administration officials
- Capacity building activities

The FWB and the REC intend to combine, through a common synergy, their technical know-how and financial resources in order to contribute to the achievement of environmental sustainability objectives.
